

Income-Eligible Weatherization

Sometimes an unexpected illness or job loss turns your finances upside down or your fixed income just doesn't stretch far enough. When that happens, Evergy's Income-Eligible Weatherization program may be able to help.

Reduce your energy usage up to 35%, and save on your heating and cooling bills by weatherizing your home.

Evergy's Income-Eligible Weatherization program enables qualifying families to save money and improve safety and energy efficiency by reducing their energy use. Through this program, experts install energy-efficiency measures free of charge that help keep your home's temperature comfortable, no matter the weather conditions.

Typical services may include:

- Installing insulation
- Air sealing cracks and gaps on windows
- Repairing heating and central A/C systems

Who is eligible for the program?

Both homeowners and renters can qualify for the program. To be eligible, you must be an Evergy customer and have:

Homeowners

- Household earnings at or below the current federal income guidelines for weatherization.
- Received electric service from Evergy for a minimum of one year.
- Household energy consumption of at least 3,000 kWh per year.

Renters

- Responsibility for the payment of electricity bills.
- An agreement under contract with a local weatherization provider that your landlord will not raise the rent for at least two years in Missouri and one year in Kansas from the date of completion of installation of the energy-efficiency measures.
- Approval from your landlord.

How to apply

You can apply through your local community action agency. (See list on back). Applications are taken year-round.

How does the agency determine which weatherization measures will be installed?

Energy auditors will survey your home and input current information in the National Energy Audit Tool (NEAT). This tool will then recommend energy-efficient improvements you can make to your home based on its current status.
